

GREAT SOUTHERN RAIL TRAIL

This is a predominantly flat 10.2km section of the trail with gorgeous views of Corner Inlet. You will travel through areas of bushland and dairy farms, crossing over Agnes River as it flows toward the sea. Look out for unique native flora and enjoy the tranquil, historic gardens as you approach Welshpool.

TOORA

Toora is situated at the foot of Mount Best with Mount Fatigue to the north. Both offer spectacular views of Corner Inlet and Wilsons Promontory. In the hills north east of the township, you will find one of Victoria's first wind farms and the spectacular Agnes Falls - the state's highest single span waterfall. Agnes Falls is easily accessible from by car from Toora, just follow the signs from Silcocks Hill Road. An internationally recognised wetlands site, with a shelter to observe the variety of migratory birds that nest there, is also just a short journey from town.

WELSHPOOL

Welshpool is nestled inland at the foothills of the Strzelecki Ranges just a short distance from the rugged south eastern coastline. Once a busy cargo interchange, including fish caught in Corner Inlet bound for the Melbourne markets and beyond, the Welshpool track continued to Yarram to transport passengers and goods. From here, the trail diverts from the South Gippsland Highway and heads towards the coast.
