

GREAT SOUTHERN RAIL TRAIL

The original railway surveyors curved the line towards the south to avoid the steep hills at Foster North.

Today, this diverse 18.3km section of the trail offers views of productive pastures, giant gumtrees and flowing creeks. This varied environment opens itself to an abundance of wildlife at every turn. Journey past the horse racing town of Stony Creek, rest at the playground at Buffalo and enjoy a breathtaking rural outlook as you approach Fish Creek.

MEENIYAN

Meeniyana is a buzzing country town, bursting with community pride and family-friendly spaces. Take your time exploring the main street with its range of unique shops, homely cafés and restaurants, and wander through the gallery, boasting the talents of artists near and far. Renowned for its acoustics, this historical Meeniyana Hall hosts a number of live acts throughout the year and is the town's centrepiece.

FISH CREEK

Fish Creek is an artisans' hub filled with creative flavour. From an historical art deco hotel in the centre of town to studios and galleries where you can see the artist at work, this town is perfect for the curious to explore. There are a number of eateries and a 'fish' theme resonates with the recent addition of the 2006 Commonwealth Games fish sculpture and the large mullet on the roof of the art deco hotel, a renowned feature.
